Colorado Companies To Watch Announces 2023 Finalists
Celebrities of the Business Scene: Meet the Finalists

Denver, CO – April 17, 2023 – Colorado Companies To Watch (CCTW) announced today its Finalists for the 2023 Colorado Companies To Watch Award. Each year, second-stage entrepreneurs, those that are beyond the startup stage with six to 99 employees and revenues between $750,000 and $50M, are chosen to be considered for this prestigious awards program that recognizes growing businesses that are making immense strides in the Colorado economy.

“Every year, hundreds of second stage businesses are nominated, 100 are selected as Finalists, and 50 are chosen as Winners, through a time-honored rigorous nominations and judging process,” mentioned Kim Woodworth, CCTW’s 2023 Board Chair. “This year, we are excited to celebrate our top Finalists in our inaugural Finalist Expo and Reception, showcasing all that these businesses contribute to our local economies. Congratulations for making it this far and we look forward to seeing you at the Expo!” continues Woodworth.

The Finalist Reception and Expo features a forum of keynote speakers, networking opportunities, and the recognition of finalists in front of an audience of more than 300 people. The event takes place on April 27th, 2023 at the Hyatt Regency Denver Tech Center. General admission tickets can be purchased here: <https://coloradocompaniestowatch.org/our-events/finalist-reception-expo-general-public/>

Since 2009, Colorado Companies to Watch has honored the critical, yet often overlooked, second-stage companies from across the state for their undeniable impact on our communities. The final 50 will be announced at the Annual Gala Awards Dinner on June 16, 2023.
